Dear Kevin:

Thank you so much for your presentation to the Brookhaven Business Alliance. Our members were on the edge of their seats and spellbound by your speech. Your presentation concepts applied to all aspects of their lives, both professionally and personally. They also loved the humor you placed throughout the speech.

Many of our Members have said they are going to utilize your strategy for managing pressure and enhancing employee productivity in the workplace. Also, I know several of our members have contacted you about presenting to their organizations and companies.

We appreciate your professionalism. Your style and presentation skills are extraordinary, as you were clearly the best speaker we had this past year. Thank you and I know the members that use you again will be extremely happy they did! I am working to get you in front of our company, as well as our Board of Governors. You are just what the doctor ordered for our high-pressure, multifaceted business.

Thanks again,
